Featured work includes -

- Large log wood and recycled material sculpture artists

- Mural projects
- Plein-air painting / drawing demonstrations from The Clinton Art Society (held at the historic Stanton House and throughout the downtown waterfront district)
- The Clinton Art Society will be open for public viewing and shopping
- Live music
- Food trucks
- The Community Garden Fresh Veggie project will be available at the Pierson School
- Attendance is free to the public

A comprehensive marketing campaign has been launched to the larger Connecticut shoreline communities. This festival will draw interest from both our marketing campaign and the strong summer tourism we see in Clinton. Chainsaw artists will create large sculptures onsite, creating visual interest to a drive by audience.

Sculptors are encouraged to join the hands-on focus of the festival. A Chandelier Building project for children will add to the diversity and fun of the day.

Artists of all disciplines are welcome and encouraged to participate.

Booth fees are $25.00, with no commission on sales.
